

KLOVE radio station is a vital part of our community. This radio station provides a much needed service to my family, my friends, as well as my family members living in other parts of the country. The non-commercial format is much appreciated over the local stations. At first I thought that I would miss the local information, but KLOVE does a very good job of providing just enough information on the local scene. Overall the quality of this station is unmatched by any other station whether local, on the Internet, or via satellite. I respectfully request that you NOT alter the capabilities provided by KLOVE.
